InfraGard San Diego Physical Security Forum: Protecting Your Venue from Today's Threats

September 12, 2018

Public venues include a diverse range of sites that draw large crowds of people for business, entertainment, sports, recreation, lodging, shopping and more. Hosting anywhere from thousands to millions of visitors annually, these facilities face unique security challenges in terms of open public access and assembly, large population densities, regional and national visibility, and threat actors that aim to capitalize on these unique characteristics.

The InfraGard San Diego Physical Security Forum has assembled security leaders from iconic venues, along with physical security experts from top-tier government agencies, to share their perspectives and expertise on the latest trends, challenges and best practices impacting their industries. Learn how these organizations protect their facilities, customers, workforce and other stakeholders from today's criminal and terrorist threats.

Featured speakers include:

- Robert Heyer, Director of Security, SeaWorld
- Len Davey, Senior Director of Security and Transportation, San Diego Padres
- Bill McClurg, Safety and Security Director, USS Midway Museum
- Brian Link, Director of Public Safety, Pechanga Resort & Casino
- Kelly Wilson, Protective Security Advisor, U.S. Dept. of Homeland Security
- McRay Murdock, Assistant Special Agent in Charge, U.S. Secret Service, San Diego Field Office
